

I think that the broadcast ownership should be regulated by non-participant partidary members of politics that inflict or affect somehow the natural process of media broadcast system. At the same time, there should be an open forum station for the general public, to criticize the authenticity of all information provided by all media players. This forum should be open to the public and it must be patronage by the same media broadcast owners.